

SELEX Sistemi Integrati inaugurated its office in Brussels

The Italian ambassador in Belgium His Excellency Roberto Bettarini and the Italian ambassador at NATO His Excellency Riccardo Sessa were the “ribbon cutters” of the new born Brussels office of SELEX Sistemi Integrati. In their speech he two Ambassadors praised the company vitality and its capability of spreading the Italian trademark in the world.

Their words were very much appreciated by the company representatives attending the ceremony, particularly by Marina Grossi, Chief Executive Officer and Chief Operating Officer of SELEX Sistemi Integrati. In welcoming the many institutional guests, she also reminded the audience of the inaugural ceremony of the new SELEX Sistemi Integrati’s office in Bristol, held on 28th March and the future opening of the new company SELEX Sistemi Integrati do Brazil in Rio de Janeiro.

“We are opening new premises with the aim of being closer and closer to our most precious assets: our customers” Marina Grossi said during the event. “SELEX Sistemi Integrati considers an essential element to be the nearest possible to the customers’ needs, to better and better understand their requirements, follow their requests and recommendations in the best way possible, especially when following company contracts” the CEO added.

“I am sure our customers too will appreciate having our offices closer to them. Moreover the interaction of our teams with the Brussels based organizations will be very useful for us and for the other companies of the Group” Marina Grossi ended.

During the ceremony also the main Brussels based organizations representatives confirmed their appreciation for the new opening and for the many programmes the company has in course with the European Union, NATO and Eurocontrol.

SELEX Sistemi Integrati’s Brussels office, located on the upper floor of the same building hosting the Finmeccanica representative office, is in fact born to provide NATO, the European Union, Eurocontrol and other organizations with an easy access to interact, know and appreciate the defense and security capabilities of the Finmeccanica company.

The new Brussels office is considered one of the investments SELEX Sistemi Integrati has done to support its activities, especially the ones linked to the Network Enabled Capabilities, the superiority of information, the naval systems, the cyber security and the air traffic control, which generate successful solutions and which have been already operational for a long time in more than 100 countries worldwide.

In these days the Brussels office has already activated its representative role by hosting a cocktail offered to the major SESAR Programme stakeholders which had the occasion to know the new presence guaranteed by SELEX Sistemi Integrati in Europe.
