

Selex unveils smart navigation system

Selex Sistemi has displayed its latest distance measuring equipment (DME) for the first time at the ATCA show. The 1118A/1119A is a compact unit that provides the performance and reliability of earlier navigational systems within a single cabinet. The reduced number of components, fewer spare parts and improved diagnostics has led to strong customer interest. Selex has sold more than 21 units from its US plant — 12 have been delivered, including four commissioned overseas.

